What is NGI Pointer about?

ngipointer.eu

NGI-POINTER' aims to find ambitious "NGI architects" to change the underlying fabric of the internet and the web, by supporting promising bottom-up projects that are able to build on top of state-of-the-art research, scalable protocols and tools to assist in the practical transition or migration to new or updated technologies, whilst keeping European Values at the core.

A minimum of 80% (FSTP) of the funding of NGI Pointer has been reserved for Financial Support to Third parties with the remaining 20% provided to the consortium to identify and motivate third parties to apply; manage the open calls; mentor and evaluate the running projects; and to provide a reflective advisory mechanisms for the project , as well as general project management.
